Dear Naghul Adhithya,

Thank you again for applying to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. After carefully reviewing your application, our admissions committee has concluded that while we cannot offer you admission at this time we would like to offer you a place on our waiting list.

Admission from the waiting list will depend on the number of students who confirm their enrollment this spring. Students who accept places on the waiting list will receive final decisions from us no later than July 31. Learn more about the waiting list.

To accept a place on the waiting list, and to be considered for spaces that may become available before July 31, please click here. Please reply as soon as possible and no later than February 21.

If you accept a place on our waiting list, it will be important that you send updated semester or trimester grades, as well as your final transcript, to us as they become available. Since we cannot predict how many students we may be able to admit from our waiting list, it's also crucial that you make plans to attend another college or university and confirm your intent to enroll at that school before its published deadline.

Because the waiting list is unranked, and because we will not know until much later whether any spaces will become available, we cannot offer any insight into where any student stands on the waiting list or forecast any student's chances of eventually being admitted. Should spaces become available, our review of students will focus primarily on their original applications and on their final transcripts. Although we appreciate that students may want to send additional recommendations, we've found that they are not helpful. We also do not offer interviews to students who are on the waiting list, because we do not use interviews to evaluate any student for admission.

I know it's difficult to wait longer for a final decision, but we promise that we'll do our best to act as quickly as we can. If we cannot offer you a place for next fall, we believe that you have a promising future ahead of you, and with the talent and drive that helped you succeed in your academic journey, you'll thrive at whatever institution you choose to attend next fall.

Sincerely,

Jared Rosenberg
Associate Provost and Director of Undergraduate Admissions
